

LYNDA THALIE

From the sands of Algeria to the cold of Canada, Lynda Thalie is perfectly poised to seduce listeners with her uniquely enthralling sound. Don't be fooled, Lynda Thalie is not the flavor of the day type of singer. This composer/singer/dancer charms with her own distinct style and exudes everything exotic, authentic and sensual.

Nominated 5 times at the prestigious Quebec ADISQ gala in 2006 Lynda Thalie is surrounded by top of the line musicians, management team and record company. She has performed in the most notorious events in Canada and other parts of the world. The notorious Tony Levin (Peter Gabriel) also worked his magic recording with Lynda.

Within Canada's rich cultural tapestry Lynda Thalie is transcending cultural barriers and is a successful role model for young women. Recognized as the first successful North African woman to embark on Canada's music scene, Thalie has performed in over 300 shows throughout Canada and around the world.

Besides movie projects, voice overs, collaborations with other artists and a performance in 2006 at the Canadian Hall of Fame Gala for authors-composers in Toronto, 2007 started with a 6 country tour that took her to Dubai, Amman, Tunis, Algiers, Mexico and Paris. Her high-energy stage show offers an escape; a place where sensuality and the exotic rub shoulders with the mystery of the Sahara desert. With a definite contemporary approach, Lynda Thalie is importing a new sound through mature and thoughtful lyrics on compelling and innovative compositions. Lynda captures the audience through her enchanting melodies and spirited live performances that she describes as "... a mix of honey from Africa and maple syrup of Canada."
